We want to celebrate & showcase the fantastic contributions of postdocs in Germany to research, teaching, administration & more during the Postdoc Appreciation Week!

The Postdoc Appreciation Week has been celebrated in the UK and the US for years to bring postdocs into the limelight and we are strongly convinced that postdocs in Germany deserve as well more attention, visibility and support given their key role in the German academic system – and their difficult working conditions/career perspectives.

During the last months, we have reached out to institutions, networks, organizations and individuals supporting postdocs in Germany to make the Postdoc Appreciation Week an established celebratory week. We are absolutely overwhelmed by the positive responses – on a rather short notice. It is amazing to see that so many are supporting this initiative and are organizing special events for postdocs during the PAW.

You will find many of these supporters, who are contributing with events, here in the PAW event program, but there are definitely many more on board who are supporting the PAW in different ways. A big thanks to everyone involved! This week would have not been possible without this vast support and all your contributions!

While preparing the program, we learned so much about the fantastic work of dedicated colleagues at different institutions, networks and organizations in Germany. Every one of us is absolutely aware of the difficult situation postdocs in Germany face and we are doing our best to support them with the resources available to us.

PAW Event Program

This program includes almost 70 virtual and in-person events that will take place during the PAW from September, 19th-23rd. We provide an information platform for all these events which are organized by the respective institutions, networks and organizations. Most of these events are open events that postdocs from any institution can join (irrespective of whether your institution is organizing an event or not).

For events with limited number of participants, please make sure that you can and will attend before you register as there may be many others interested.

Please note that we are only providing information about the events, but the respective institutions, networks and organisations are the ones responsible for the content and registration. Events may be subject to changes. If you have any questions related to a particular event, please get in touch directly with the organizer/host. The contact details of the people in charge are also provided. We will try our best to update the program on Linktree, but please bear with us if something does not work out as expected.

We are also inviting everyone for a short kick-off for the week on Monday, Sept. 19 from 9:00-9:30 am. (see the program).

PAW Social Media Campaign

To establish the Postdoc Appreciation Week more firmly in the scientific community and to promote it to a wider audience, we are additionally organising a (social media) campaign during the week. We are inviting everyone – postdocs, professors, PIs, science managers, coordinators, institutions & networks to join.

About the Initiative

In the spirit of the Postdoc Appreciation Week, we would particularly encourage professors and PIs get a chance to express their appreciation for (their) postdocs. The campaign also provides an opportunity for postdocs to convey their views and wishes about their own postdoc experience in Germany and to address the challenges they are facing. For details, please refer to the last pages of this program file.

Please spread the word and feel free to share these materials with social media managers, researchers and everyone else involved in supporting postdocs in Germany.

When you share and comment on posts, please make sure you observe general Netiquette rules. This should be a safe space for researchers to share their contributions.

Online-Workshop Wissenschaftliches Schreiben / Scientific Writing (19+20/9/2022)

organisiert von der Graduiertenakademie TU Clausthal/ Graduate academy Clausthal University of Technology

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 19.09.2022, 9:00 AM-5:00 PM

Beschreibung Das Veröffentlichen der eigenen Ergebnisse stellt die Währung in der modernen Wissenschaft dar. Es ist vielleicht nicht die liebste Aufgabe für Wissenschaftler:innen, aber es ist eine entscheidende und trägt maßgeblich dazu bei, welche Forschungsmöglichkeiten einem in Zukunft offenstehen. Ziel des Workshops ist es, den Schreibprozess an einem eigenen Text in allen Schritten exemplarisch durchlaufen.

Der Workshop findet in English oder Deutsch am 19. und 20.9.22, jeweils 9-17 Uhr statt.

Gastgeber: Graduiertenakademie TU Clausthal

Zielgruppe Postdocs und andere Forscher:innen, die den Schreibprozess in allen Schritten exemplarisch durchlaufen wollen/ Postdocs

„Bin ich auf dem richtigen Weg?“ – Der Ausstieg aus der Wissenschaft als permanente Option (Publication Week)

organisiert von der Universitätsbibliothek und dem
Graduiertenzentrum der Universität Hildesheim

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 19.09.2022, 10:00 AM-12:30 PM

Beschreibung Wie kommt es, dass sich Postdocs für den Verbleib im oder den Ausstieg aus der Wissenschaft entscheiden? Postdocs befinden sich in einem Orientierungsprozess, in dem sie ihren Weg im Wissenschaftssystem, ausgelöst durch kritische Ereignisse, immer wieder infrage stellen. Was anstrengend klingt, Ressourcen bindet und raubt, ist gleichzeitig eine Strategie die Unsicherheit der Wissenschaftskarriere selbst zu kontrollieren, statt sich ihren Wirkungen auszuliefern.

Trainer/Dozent/Referent Dr. Svea Korff ist Geschäftsführerin des Graduiertenzentrums der Universität Hildesheim und Beraterin für Wissenschaftler:innen in ihrer frühen Karrierephase. Sie ist seit 2015 Sprecherin des Forschungsclusters „Hochschule und Bildung“ und war Koordinatorin des DFG-geförderten wissenschaftlichen Netzwerks „Ausstieg aus der Wissenschaft“ (2018-2020).

Moderator: Dr. Ninon Franziska Frank - Fachreferentin Universitätsbibliothek Universität Hildesheim

Zielgruppe Postdocs mit Ausstiegsgedanken

Max. Teilnehmerzahl: 100 | Vorherige Anmeldung nötig: Ja

Anmeldelink: <https://www.uni-hildesheim.de/cldrei/anmeldung/gz.php>

Weitere Hinweise: Ein Online-Vortrag mit der Möglichkeit Fragen zu stellen und zu diskutieren.

Bei Fragen zur Veranstaltung wenden Sie sich gern an: Dr. Svea Korff, Universität Hildesheim - Graduiertenzentrum, gz@uni-hildesheim.de Über die Einrichtung: Das Graduiertenzentrum bildet eine Dachstruktur für die fächerübergreifenden Aktivitäten rund um die Nachwuchsförderung und die akademische Personalentwicklung.

Die Universitätsbibliothek ist das wissenschaftliche Informationszentrum der Universität Hildesheim.

Karrierewege zur Professur – für Postdocs

organisiert von dem Deutschen Hochschulverband (DHV)

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 19.09.2022, 10:00 AM-10:45 AM

Beschreibung Im Kurzseminar sollen die Wege zur Juniorprofessur und zur Vollprofessur beleuchtet werden: Welche Einstellungsvoraussetzungen muss ich für eine Juniorprofessur mitbringen? Ab wann kann ich mich auf eine Vollprofessur bewerben? Muss ich zuvor die Habilitation erfolgreich beendet haben? Was sind habilitationsadäquate Leistungen? Beim Weg zur Professur gilt es auch mal innezuhalten und zu schauen, was bisher erreicht wurde und was noch zu tun ist (Stärken-/Schwächen-Analyse).

Trainer/Dozent/Referent RA Dr. Ulrike Preißler, Justitiarin für Hochschul- und Beamtenrecht im Deutschen Hochschulverband.

Seit 2002 ist Frau Dr. Preißler Justitiarin beim DHV mit dem Schwerpunkt Hochschul- und Beamtenrecht. Im Speziellen widmet sie sich den folgenden Themen: W-Besoldung, Berufungs- und Bleibeverhandlungen an den Hochschulen, Erstberufung, Kommunikation und Selbstpräsentation in der Wissenschaft sowie Befristungsrecht beim wissenschaftlichen Nachwuchs. Auf dieser Basis berät und coacht sie die Mitglieder des DHV bei der Planung ihrer Hochschulkarriere.

Über die Einrichtung: Der Deutsche Hochschulverband (DHV) ist die Berufsvertretung der Wissenschaftlerinnen und Wissenschaftler in Deutschland mit über 32.000 Mitgliedern – darunter mehr als 6.000 Nachwuchswissenschaftler.

Er vertritt ihre Interessen gegenüber dem Staat und der Öffentlichkeit. Zugleich versteht sich der DHV als umfassende Service- und Informationseinrichtung für die Scientific Community.

Grundwissen zu Arbeitszeugnissen für Postdocs

organisiert von dem Deutschen Hochschulverband

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 19.09.2022, 11:00 AM-11:45 AM

Beschreibung Bei Bewerbungen auf Stellen im Bereich der Wissenschaft - aber auch darüber hinaus - werden die Bewerbungsunterlagen üblicherweise durch Zeugnisse und Urkunden abgerundet. Dieses Kurzseminar erläutert, wann und in welcher Form wissenschaftliche Mitarbeitende ein Arbeitszeugnis verlangen können. Es werden Anspruchsvoraussetzungen, Form und Inhalt eines Arbeitszeugnisses besprochen und auf die Besonderheiten der Zeugnissprache eingegangen.

Trainer/Dozent/Referent RA Dr. Vanessa Adam, Justitiarin für Hochschul- und Arbeitsrecht im Deutschen Hochschulverband.

Seit Oktober 2011 ist Frau Dr. Adam Justitiarin beim DHV. Ihre beruflichen Schwerpunkte liegen im Arbeits-, Beamten- und Hochschulrecht und sie berät die Mitglieder des DHV zu allen Fragen rund um die wissenschaftliche Karriere, Bewerbung und Berufung auf eine Professur.

Erfolgsentscheidend - selbst entscheiden! Karriere in der Wissenschaft... oder nicht?

organisiert von Dr. Oliver Grewe

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 19.09.2022, 11:00 AM-12:00 PM

Beschreibung Entdecke den Schlüssel für eine erfolgreiche Wissenschaftskarriere! Hier geht es buchstäblich um Wert-Schätzung für Postdocs. Du willst Verantwortung übernehmen und Dich engagieren, aber Dich NICHT in einem unterfinanzierten System ausnutzen lassen? Ich teile mit Dir meine Learnings aus dem Postdoc und 15 Jahren Wissenschaftsmanagement und -förderung: in drei Schritten hältst Du den Schlüssel zu einer erfolgreichen Karriere in Händen - innerhalb oder außerhalb der Wissenschaft.

Trainer/Dozent/Referent Dr. Oliver Grewe ist Wissenschaftsmanager und Coach. Seinen Einstieg ins Wissenschaftsmanagement hatte er bei der Studienstiftung des deutschen Volkes und der Wissenschaftlichen Kommission Niedersachsen. Als wissenschaftlicher Referent bei der Volkswagenstiftung war er mit der Betreuung und Konzipierung verschiedener Förderinitiativen betraut. Siebe Jahre lang war er verantwortlich für das Nachwuchsförderprogramm „Freigeist-Fellowships“.

Zielgruppe Postdocs, die Verantwortung für die eigene Karriere übernehmen wollen.

Funding Opportunities for Postdocs

organized by the Research and Innovation Service at the Leibniz University Hannover

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 19.09.2022, 12:00 PM-1:00 PM

Description You plan to write a research proposal but are not sure which calls and programmes would be best for you? This course will help! In its first 20 minutes, participants will get a rough overview

- of the third party funding-landscape in Germany,
- specifically those programmes that are best suited for postdocs, and
- how to obtain information on them.

We will proceed with a 40 minutes session in which participants can ask questions and discuss their strategies for their own road map to funding.

Trainer/Speaker Dr. Britta Lesniak, Leibniz Universität Hannover

Dr. Maria Leuteritz, Leibniz Universität Hannover

Target group Doctoral researchers in their final year and early-career postdocs who plan to stay in academia and need an overview of funding opportunities during the postdoc phase

Make your science credible with open science organized by the Munich Postdoc Network in collaboration with the Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 19.09.2022, 2:00 PM-2:45 PM

Description Do you want to gain more trust in your research, and make it as credible as it can be in the eyes of your peers, the public, and funding agencies? This is an overview of how open science practices can help you achieve this. Specifically, we will briefly discuss how planning your statistical plans in advance can make your research more reliable, and how creating workflow using fundamental computing skills can make your research more reproducible; altogether making your work more replicable.

Trainer/Speaker Dr. Malika Ihle, LMU Open Science Center coordinator

Careers beyond academia

organized by the German Scholars Organization e.V.

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 19.09.2022, 4:00 PM-5:15 PM

Description Transitioning from academia to another sector can be challenging: How do my skills translate to a job in the business, public or non-profit sectors? Where can I find inspiration and what's behind certain job titles? How should my CV and a cover letter look like? Are there other ways to get a job? Do I need a LinkedIn profile and how can I leverage this tool?

The workshop will give first answers and offers a space to discuss questions and experiences of the participants.

Trainer/Speaker Anne Schreiter is Executive Director of the German Scholars Organization (GSO), an independent nonprofit in Berlin that advises, connects, promotes, and funds researchers who want to build a career in Germany.

She studied Social and Business Communications and Sociology in Berlin and Chinese Language in Nanjing, China. After receiving her PhD in Organizational Sociology from the University of St. Gallen, she spent a year as postdoctoral researcher at UC Berkeley, USA. She then transitioned from academia to the nonprofit sector.

Migration: A journey through its different stages and its emotional management organized by the Helmholtz Institute for Functional Marine Biodiversity (HIFMB) & the Society of Spanish Scientists in Germany (CERFA)

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 19.09.2022, 4:00 PM-5:15 PM

Description Living abroad is an experience that places you out of the comfort zone. On one hand it's an opportunity for personal and professional growth, but it can also be threatening. Loneliness, frustration for not being able to express in a new language, the quest for the next job... challenge our resources. Postdocs know all too well about it. Here you will hear about the migration journey, its different stages from the psychological and emotional point of view and get few tools to deal with hard moments.

Trainer/Speaker Tonina Ferrer is a psychologist and a coach. She is specialized in wellbeing and personal development. Particularly, she has devoted 10 years of her professional activity, to work with Spaniards living abroad, providing support in the process of developing their personal resources, thus enabling them to maximise their potential and wellbeing. She is specialist in migration and mental health. (www.toninaferrer.com)

Praxisworkshop: Energie tanken

organisiert von der JMU Research Academy, Universität Würzburg

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 20.09.2022, 9:30 AM-11:30 AM

Beschreibung Unser Alltag ist mitunter sehr fordernd: Eine Frist jagt die andere. Wir hetzen von einer Aufgabe zur nächsten. Die Grenzen zwischen Privatleben und Beruf verschwimmen. Gleichzeitig sind die Erwartungen hoch, die wir selbst und andere an uns stellen. Um den vielfältigen Anforderungen des Alltags selbstbestimmt zu begegnen, ist es wichtig, dass wir lernen für uns selbst zu sorgen: Was raubt mir Energie? Was sind meine Kraftquellen und Ressourcen? Was kann ich tun, um aufzutanken und zu entspannen?

Trainer/Dozent/Referent Dr. Daniela Seybold, JMU Research Academy, Universität Würzburg

Zielgruppe alle Wissenschaftler*innen

#uniwue, #selfcare, #leadership

Offene Veranstaltung: Ja, die Veranstaltung ist offen für externe Teilnehmer:innen | Max. Teilnehmerzahl: 300 | Vorherige Anmeldung nötig: Ja

Anmeldelink: <https://go.uniwue.de/paw-energie>

Weitere Hinweise: Interaktiver Vortrag, Kamera und Mikro werden benötigt

Bei Fragen zur Veranstaltung wenden Sie sich gern an: Krischan Brandl, Leiter Personalentwicklung im wissenschaftlichen Bereich, JMU Research Academy, Universität Würzburg, krischan.brandl@uni-wuerzburg.de Über die Einrichtung: Die JMU Research Academy der JMU Würzburg pflegt seit 2018 ein Netzwerk aller Anbieter von Personalentwicklungsmaßnahmen für Wissenschaftlerinnen und Wissenschaftler.

Sie bündelt alle Trainings, Coaching- oder Mentoring-Angebote sowie verschiedene andere Formate, die WissenschaftlerInnen auf ihrem individuellen Karriereweg unterstützen und schafft je nach Bedarf neue passgenaue Angebote.

Die JMU Research Academy betreut dabei Promotionsstudierende und Postdocs ebenso wie Professor*innen.

Standortbestimmung für Postdocs

organisiert vom Postdoc Career and Mentoring Office, JLU Gießen

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 20.09.2022, 10:00 AM-12:00 PM

Beschreibung Um die eigene Karriere strategisch planen zu können, ist es notwendig, zunächst den eigenen Standort zu bestimmen. Der Kurzworkshop gibt Einblicke in zentrale Handlungs- und Qualifizierungsfelder für Wissenschaftler:innen. Sie analysieren, welche Bereiche Sie bereits gut abdecken und wo Sie sich weiterentwickeln möchten. Zugleich gibt der Workshop einen Überblick über die Kompetenzen, die Sie als Postdoc bereits mitbringen und in Ihrer inner- oder außeruniversitären Karriere einbringen können.

Trainer/Dozent/Referent Dr. Diana Hitzke ist Referentin im Postdoc Career and Mentoring Office (PCMO) an der Justus-Liebig-Universität (JLU) Gießen. Sie ist Literatur- und Kulturwissenschaftlerin und hat als Projektkoordinatorin am Zentrum für Medien und Interaktivität (ZMI) gearbeitet. Zuvor war sie wissenschaftliche Mitarbeiterin an der JLU Gießen und an der Technischen Universität Dresden sowie Stipendiatin an der Universität Erfurt.

Our coaching, mentoring and workshops help to get to know career paths within and outside of science for the Career Tracks Academia, Business, and Science Management.

Wer bin ich und wenn ja wie viele? – Akademisches Identitätsmanagement

organisiert vom Dezernat Forschung und EU-Hochschulbüro,
Technologietransfer der Leibniz Universität Hannover

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 20.09.2022, 1:00 PM-2:00 PM

Beschreibung Ist Ihnen die korrekte Zuordnung Ihrer Publikationen zu Ihrer Person wichtig? Möchten Sie die Sichtbarkeit Ihrer Forschungsergebnisse erhöhen? Anhand eindeutiger Autorenidentifikatoren können Sie sich die Autorenschaft Ihrer Publikationen sichern sowie die eindeutige Verknüpfung von u.a. Zitationen ermöglichen. Dies ist entscheidend für das Auffinden und die Auswertbarkeit Ihrer Forschungsergebnisse. Wir geben einen Überblick über die Autorenprofile der gängigen Anbieter und Datenbanken.

Wissenschaftspreise, Awards und Grants – braucht man Auszeichnungen?

organisiert vom Dezernat Forschung und EU-Hochschulbüro,
Technologietransfer der Leibniz Universität Hannover

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 20.09.2022, 2:00 PM-3:00 PM

Beschreibung Wissenschaftspreise sind ein etabliertes Instrument der Leistungsbewertung und eine Auszeichnung von Forschenden. Zugleich sind Preise notorisch unberechenbar. Ist es also möglich, Wissenschaftspreise gezielt als Instrument der eigenen Karriereentwicklung zu nutzen? Und lohnt sich das überhaupt? Diese Veranstaltung nähert sich diesen Fragen an. Nach einem einführenden Input zum Thema Preise bekommen die Teilnehmenden Gelegenheit für Fragen und Austausch über ihre eigenen Erfahrungen.

Trainer/Dozent/Referent Dr. Britta Lesniak, Leibniz Universität Hannover

Zielgruppe Postdocs, die sich über das Förderinstrument Wissenschaftspreis und Wissenschaftspreise in Deutschland informieren möchten Karrieregespräch: Als promovierter Geisteswissenschaftler ins Verlagswesen – Wie sieht der Arbeitsalltag im Lektorat aus?

organisiert vom Postdoc Career and Mentoring Office, JLU Gießen
Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 20.09.2022, 5:00 PM-6:00 PM

Beschreibung Die wissenschaftliche Karriere bietet per se viel Unsicherheit. Das zeigt sich daran, dass die Zahl der Professuren begrenzt ist und lediglich ein Teil der Postdocs später auf einer solchen landet. Doch auch andere Karrierewege stehen Postdocs offen – oft sind sie nur weniger bekannt und manchmal nicht so gradlinig wie erhofft, aber dennoch attraktiv.

Unser Gast aus dem Verlagswesen wird uns seine Geschichte erzählen und uns an seinem Weg dorthin, wo er heute steht, teilhaben lassen.

Forever postdoc! or not ... the nitty-gritty of the "WissZeitVG" (German law about short contracts)

organized by HIFMB & CERFA

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 20.09.2022, 5:00 PM-6:30 PM

Description Researchers in Germany work mostly under temporary contracts and yet, there is a time limit for how long that can be so. It is 12 years, right? Or 6 if I am already doctor when coming? How does it count if I go back and forth? Fellowships are not contracts, are they? Many questions to answer for foreigners and also for German researchers. Join this seminar to get proper information and avoid nasty surprises in your career.

Grenzen setzen & Nein sagen

organisiert von der Leuphana Universität Lüneburg

Event vor Ort, Datum & Uhrzeit: 21.09.2022, 9:00 AM-5:00 PM

Campus Leuphana Universität Lüneburg,

Gebäude 14

Beschreibung Wenn wir für uns eintreten möchten - zu uns und unseren Werten stehen, unsere Bedürfnisse realisieren - dann brauchen wir dafür Grenzen. Jedoch passiert es im Alltag häufig, dass wir Ja sagen, obwohl wir Nein meinen. Aus Angst, abgelehnt zu werden oder weil wir vermeintlichen Erwartungen gerecht werden möchten.

Dieser Workshop beschäftigt sich mit der Kunst der wertschätzenden Abgrenzung und konstruktiven Kommunikation.

Postdoc101 Talk "What Every Postdoc Needs to Know"

organized by the TUM Talent Factory, Technical University of Munich in collaboration with the Munich Postdoc Network

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 21.09.2022, 4:00 PM-6:00 PM

Description Being a postdoc can be an exciting start to an academic career and/or a career in research – the opportunity to focus entirely on research activities. However, it is also a very stressful time with most research being funded via fixed term contracts. Balancing doing the day job with planning the next steps in your careers can be difficult with lots of options but not necessarily the skills to assess these options.

Trainer/Speaker Dr Liz Elvidge, Head of Postdoc and Fellows Development at Imperial College London. Liz is a leading expert in the support and development of postdocs and fellows. Her no nonsense approach to supporting early career researchers results in postdocs and fellows taking responsibility for their careers and moving onwards to fantastic opportunities and work places. She is co-author of "What every Postdoc needs to know" (available via TUM eAccess!). This talk will give an overview of how to move forwards in your career. Be prepared to ask lots of questions!

Host Dr. Carolin Herzog, TUM ForTe

Why is the view of patients important for research on cancer? Patient advisory board @DKFZ organized by the Postdoc Network Committee from the DKFZ

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 21.09.2022, 4:30 PM-5:30 PM

Description With this talk by Dirk Hellrung we would like to give postdoctoral researchers the big picture about cancer research. In a nutshell we want to show how important Cancer research is for patients and patients' families. The talk will focus on the role of patients and the patient advisory committee from DKFZ in guiding Cancer research, and also on improving cancer therapies for children.

Trainer/Speaker Dirk Hellrung. Former member of the Vorstand of the Essener Elterninitiative zur Unterstützung krebskranker Kinder e.V. He is also part of the DKFZ Patient Advisory board (Patientenbeirat). He participates actively in raising awareness for research in pediatric cancers.

Host The Postdoc Network (PDN) Committee from DKFZ will moderate the talk. The talk is part of the Research Lounge talk series organized by the PDN.

Target group Postdocs, PhD students

Wissenschaft als Traumberuf?

organisiert vom Postdoc Career and Mentoring Office, JLU Gießen

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 22.09.2022, 2:00 PM-4:00 PM

Beschreibung In diesem Workshop geht es um die Frage, was Sie sich für Ihre berufliche und private Zukunft eigentlich wünschen und was Ihnen wirklich Spaß macht. Was gefällt Ihnen an der wissenschaftlichen Tätigkeit konkret? Und was wünschen Sie sich darüber hinaus für Ihr Leben? Um berufliche Zufriedenheit zu erreichen, ist es wichtig, sich mit den eigenen, oft widersprüchlichen Wünschen auseinanderzusetzen und sie in eine ganzheitliche Karrierestrategie zu integrieren.

Trainer/Dozent/Referent Dr. Diana Hitzke ist Referentin im Postdoc Career and Mentoring Office (PCMO) an der Justus-Liebig-Universität (JLU) Gießen. Sie ist Literatur- und Kulturwissenschaftlerin und hat als Projektkoordinatorin am Zentrum für Medien und Interaktivität (ZMI) gearbeitet. Zuvor war sie wissenschaftliche Mitarbeiterin an der JLU Gießen und an der Technischen Universität Dresden sowie Stipendiatin an der Universität Erfurt.

Transparency in author contributions

organized by the Research and Innovation Service at the Leibniz University Hannover

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 22.09.2022, 2:00 PM-3:00 PM

Description Publications are an important measure of research productivity. Thus, a publication's author list is important. The order of names reflects unwritten conventions around authorship and varies across disciplines. As a result, the position in these lists often carries little information about the contribution of a researcher, which is disadvantageous for ECRs. To counter this problem, the Contributor Roles Taxonomy (CRediT) was developed. In this workshop, CRediT will be introduced and discussed.

Postdoc Career Event: Transitions and new beginnings organized by the Göttingen Campus Postdoc Network

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 22.09.2022, 2:30 PM-4:00 PM

Description A panel of experts share insights into their personal career journeys - including bumps and fears, struggles and successes. They will tell you how they got where they are today, where they are now and why it worked for them. What triggered their transitions? After short introductions, there will be a discussion before they answer your questions. Their experience includes science management, science communication, project management, interdisciplinary publishing and much more.

Trainer/Speaker Hosted by Melissa Sollich, Postdoc Coordinator for Göttingen Campus and International Communications at the University of Göttingen. Melissa is hugely grateful that she has been able to share the ups and downs, successes and struggles of hundreds of postdocs and PhD students from around the world, who are now flourishing and making change in a range of sectors around the world.

Host The expert postdoc panel includes researchers with experience of science communication, project management, interdisciplinary publishing and much more. See website for further details: <https://goettingen-campus.de/paw>

Target group Postdocs and other researchers: everyone welcome!

Understanding the German Research System

organized by the German Scholars Organization e.V. (GSO)

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 22.09.2022, 4:00 PM-5:30 PM

Description Navigating a career in academia is always challenging. In order to make informed decisions and strategically plan your career or next step in the German research landscape, it is important to know how the system works and what options you can pursue. The input will cover the following topics and you will get the chance to discuss your questions:

- An overview of academic career paths in Germany
- Specifics of the German system
- Funding options
- Managing your expectations and tapping into resources

Trainer/Speaker Birte heads the advisory services and programs at German Scholars Organization (GSO), an independent nonprofit that advises, connects, promotes, and funds researchers who want to build a career in Germany.

After receiving her PhD in Chinese Studies, Birte build an academic cooperation with China, led a PhD program and advanced services for entrepreneurs in science. She is trained as a systemic coach.

Impulse zur Entwicklung einer Drittmittelstrategie für PostDocs

organisiert vom Dezernat Forschung und EU-Hochschulbüro,
Technologietransfer der Leibniz Universität Hannover

Präsenz-Veranstaltung, Datum & Uhrzeit: 23.09.2022, 9:15 AM-4:00 PM

Villa Simon,

Brühlstraße 27, Hannover

Beschreibung Drittmittel bilden einen zentralen Baustein für die eigene Karriere. Um sie erfolgreich einzuwerben, braucht es mehr als einen Förderatlas – es braucht einige strategische Überlegungen. Interaktiv und systematisch werden wir mit Ihnen persönliche Voraussetzungen und Erwartungen reflektieren und eine Standortanalyse machen. Zudem werden wir die Fragen „Wer kann mir dabei helfen?“ und „Wie haben es andere gemacht?“ klären.

Trainer/Speaker Dr. Heike Gernns und Dr. Maria Leuteritz, Leibniz Universität Hannover

Target group Postdocs, die sich einen Tag Zeit nehmen wollen, um Ihre Karriere und Drittmittelstrategie aktiv zu planen

#StrategicFunding #AcademicCareer

Interne Veranstaltung: Die Veranstaltung ist nur für interne Teilnehmer:innen | Max. number of participants: 12 | Vorherige Anmeldung nötig: Ja

Media Training: The Basics of Science Communication - Communicating your own research in an exciting and understandable way organized by the Junior Scientist and International Researcher Center, Heinrich-Heine-University Düsseldorf

Virtual Event, Date & Time: 23.09.2022, 10:00 AM-5:00 PM

Description In the media training you will learn how to work successfully with journalists:

You will learn what expectations the media have of scientists in particular. You will learn to present your complex facts in a simple and pointed way. You will find the emotional story in your own research topic and can also communicate it in contact with journalists.

Trainer/Speaker Robert Kötter is a scientist, trained coach and rhetoric trainer and is frequently asked to be an interview partner himself. With his company zweirat he has been working as a media trainer in large companies and at many German universities, such as RWTH, Humboldt University Berlin and the University of Bonn since 2005.

FDM-Anforderungen der Förderer – Welche Informationen zum Forschungsdatenmanagement gehören in den Drittmittelantrag?

organisiert vom Leibniz-Informationszentrum Technik und Naturwissenschaften und Universitätsbibliothek (TIB)

Online-Event, Datum & Uhrzeit: 23.09.2022, 2:00:00 PM-3:00:00 PM

Beschreibung Viele Förderorganisationen fordern Angaben zum geplanten Umgang mit Forschungsdaten ein. Doch warum ist den Drittmittelgebern Forschungsdatenmanagement (FDM) so wichtig und was versteht man darunter? Was fordern DFG, BMBF und EU bezüglich des Forschungsdatenmanagements und was schreibe ich in meinem Antrag? Welchen Einfluss haben meine Angaben zum FDM auf meine Förderchancen und worauf legen die Gutachtenden wert?

Diese Themen werden in einem Kurzvortrag beleuchtet mit anschließender Fragerunde.

Further information: If you have any questions about the event, please get in touch with your PAW Coordinators via https://linktr.ee/paw_de

Join the Postdoc Appreciation Week & share your input about being a postdoc or supporting postdocs via your social media channels!

This year, Germany is joining the Postdoc Appreciation Week (PAW), which originated in the US & UK, and offer a series of events in the week of 19-23 September 2022 that are specifically designed and held for postdocs. The events will be offered by institutions all over Germany.

To establish the Postdoc Appreciation Week more firmly in the scientific community and to promote it to a wider audience, we are organising a (social media) campaign during the week and are inviting everyone – postdocs, professors, PIs, science managers, institutions & networks to join. In the spirit of the Postdoc Appreciation Week, we would particularly encourage professors and PIs get a chance to express their appreciation for (their) postdocs. The initiative also provides an opportunity for postdocs to convey their views and wishes about their own postdoc experience in Germany and to address challenges they are facing.

Other stakeholders supporting postdocs such as networks, trainers, coordinators or administrators are welcome to join the campaign and share any successes or challenges they see when dealing with postdoc matters. We would be very pleased if you all participate in this campaign.

Please spread the word and feel free to share these materials with social media managers, researchers and everyone else involved in supporting postdocs in Germany.

How can you contribute?

Post, share and retweet our campaign materials before and during the PAW!

We have prepared this document and other materials that you can post yourself, share or retweet via social media. You can use the materials to encourage others to participate in the PAW campaign. You can of course also prepare and use your own materials as well using your regular design and branding.

Share the joint open event program for the PAW!

The joint program includes events organized by different institutions, organizations, networks and individuals in Germany. Feel free to share the program via social media, email, newsletter etc.

The program is open for all postdocs in Germany irrespective of whether your institution actively organizes an event. So please spread the word! The program brochure can be accessed via the Linktree https://linktr.ee/paw_de in early September. Registration and participation rules of the respective organizer apply.

Prepare your own posts for the PAW!

Do you have a social media profile on Twitter or LinkedIn? Share a post, image or video during the Postdoc Appreciation Week (Sept. 19-23rd). As an inspiration we are suggesting some questions you may want to answer as part of your posts/videos, etc. below.

The German campaign is connected by the joint Twitter account @PAW_Germany as well as the Hashtag #PAWde. Please use the tag/hashtag to join the campaign. We will be happy to like and retweet your contributions from our PAW account.

Social Media Campaign

Further hashtags you may use for your contributions: #PostdocAppreciation #PostdocsGermany #postdocs /#postdoc #AcademicChatter #lovescience

In addition, please also tag your institution, organization, research group, point of contact for postdocs, etc.!

We also appreciate feedback on the initiative! This is the first time such a campaign and joint program is offered for the PAW in Germany! We'll share a short survey towards the end of the PAW week via our linktree.

Questions you could address in your posts

As a Postdoc...

- ❖ Share your profile with the community!
- ❖ What do you enjoy about being a postdoc?
- ❖ What has been your biggest achievement as a postdoc so far?
- ❖ What motivates you to stay in academia?
- ❖ If you are an international postdoc: How do you feel as an international postdoc in Germany?
- ❖ Which challenges do you face as a postdoc? Feel free to be critical and also link posts with #IchBinHanna (also see the FAQ below).

As a PI, Professor, Group Leader...

- ❖ Use Social Media to thank the postdocs in your group during the week with a video, post, or photo! You can of course also use the PAW as an occasion to say thank you offline during your next group meeting etc.
- ❖ Plan a post to express how important the postdocs are for your group!
- ❖ Which postdoc has recently inspired you?
- ❖ Which accomplishments of (your) postdocs do you consider particularly important?
- ❖ What do you appreciate about the postdocs in your group?
- ❖ If you have a particularly international or diverse group, what benefits do you see?
- ❖ What challenges do postdocs in your group/in Germany in general face? How could their situation be improved?
- ❖ Share tips from your own postdoc time! Which advice was most helpful for you?

As a Science Manager, Postdoc Coordinator/Advisor, Administrator ...

- ❖ Why are postdocs an important group for you? Why and how do you support them?
- ❖ Present your program & your portfolio! Which activities are you currently offering or planning to support postdocs?
- ❖ Tell us about an event you organized or a situation that made you realize that your activities are meaningful and important for postdocs!
- ❖ What would be your vision to improve the experience of postdocs in Germany?
- ❖ You may also use posts to encourage professors or postdocs to prepare their own posts during the week!

As an Institution, Team, Network or Trainer supporting Postdocs...

- ❖ Feel free to use your social media channels as well as your website or a press release to share how important postdocs are for you and how you support them!
- ❖ How about a joint post or video that you share during the week? Maybe you can combine statements from different researchers on postdocs and share it as a video?
- ❖ Introduce important, active, visible postdocs at your institution! Who's a particularly promising researcher, an excellent networker, who has won a special award or successfully applied for funding? Bring them into the spotlight!
- ❖ Which challenges do you see when supporting postdocs? What are your ideas on how this can be improved? What's your take on all the debates about the career perspectives and insecure situation of postdocs, the WissZeitVG, IchBinHanna, etc.?

If you have other topics you want to address, you are of course totally free to do so.

FAQ

Can I use the official PAW Germany logos in my posts or on my website?

Feel free to include the PAW Germany logo as long as you tag our Twitter account (@PAW_Germany), accordingly. We have shared one of the logos and social media images with the participating institutions & organizations.

If you use the logo on your website, please mention the Max Planck Institute of Biochemistry (MPIB) (<https://www.biochem.mpg.de/en>; Twitter: https://twitter.com/MPI_Biochem) who created this logo.

Can I use my own or my institution's design for the PAW?

Yes, you can definitely use your own design. We suggest to tag the @PAW_Germany on Twitter and/or to use the hashtag #PAWde on all social media channels. Feel free to prepare your own materials, use your own design, etc. if you prefer to.

Should I share my posts in German or English?

Feel free to use any language you are comfortable with! We mainly use English to ensure that the many international researchers in Germany can also participate, events will be both in German and English.

Do I need to send you my posts?

You can share your own posts from your account. You are welcome to share your posts via your own accounts, but we recommend to use the tags for a higher visibility.

If you are not using social media, but would nonetheless like to share your input, feel free to approach us or social media managers e.g. at your institution.

I don't use social media but would like to share my input for the campaign. How can I contribute?

You could either reach out to persons in charge of social media channels at your institute, institution, network, etc. and discuss whether they would be willing to share your input through their official channels. Please note that you may need to provide them with the respective rights to use and share your content.

What do I need to keep in mind when uploading videos or pictures?

Make sure that the persons shown in the video or images give their consent and agree to sharing the material on Social Media. We suggest that you contact the person at your institution responsible for data protection and ask them in case of doubt.

I have a message I want to share, but I don't have experience with videos.

You could record yourself with one of the usual platforms like Zoom or Webex. The Leibniz University of Hannover has prepared manuals for Webex in German and English which can download and share.

What is the Postdoc Appreciation Week (PAW)?

The Postdoc Appreciation Week (PAW) was started in the US by the National Postdoctoral Association to recognize the significant contributions postdocs and researchers make towards research and academic life in general. The PAW is also widely celebrated in the UK and Ireland. In 2022, the Research and Innovation Services of the Leibniz University of Hannover \(LUH\) and the Munich Postdoc Network (particularly Helmholtz Munich and the Max Planck Institute of Biochemistry) teamed up to establish this initiative in Germany.

I am not convinced that a Postdoc Appreciation Week is helping anyone given the difficult situation and lack of perspectives postdocs face in Germany.

All of us are doing our best to support postdocs and very aware of the difficulties postdocs are facing. We believe that postdocs are extremely important for the German academic system and deserve more appreciation & joint support. You are most welcome to share your input on social media and to link the PAW and e.g. #IchBinHanna, #IchBinReyhan, #WissZeitVG, #GegenWissZeitVG10 etc. There are also some webinars planned for the week which are directly addressing this essential topic.

Why should I get involved and participate in the campaign?

If you feel like publicly stating your appreciation for postdocs/your insights into postdoc-life in a social media campaign that is joined by institutions from all over Germany, we'll be happy to have you on board. Postdocs are usually not a very visible group in Germany and do not receive the appreciation they deserve for all their hard work. If you don't feel like participating because you are not convinced, that's absolutely fine as well.

All contributors hence promote the cause of giving more attention and appreciation to postdocs in Germany and our joint program offer postdocs a more extensive program during this week than any single institution could provide. The formats also promote the exchange of postdocs and a collaboration of institutions, organizations and networks across Germany.

Who is coordinating the PAW?

The Research and Innovation Services of the Leibniz University of Hannover (LUH) and the Munich Postdoc Network (MPN) are the main players behind the PAW Coordination. In particular, Anneke Meyer, Britta Lesniak and Maria Leuteritz from the LUH as well as Neele Meyer (Helmholtz Munich) and Camila Hernandez Frederick (Max Planck Institute of Biochemistry) from the Munich Postdoc Network started collaborations with different research institutions, organizations and postdoc networks across Germany to offer a collective program with events and activities for postdocs during PAW.

We appreciate the positive feedback received so far and all the interest that this initiative has raised. We would also like to thank all the coordinators, administrators, postdoc networks, and postdoc support groups that have offered their assistance and have opened their activities to external postdocs.

Will the PAW be repeated next year?

Definitely! We expect to establish the PAW in Germany as a regular annual event to celebrate everything related to postdoc life or the postdoc experience.

How can I reach out to you if I have further questions and concerns?

Please use the contact form ("Get in touch!") mentioned in the Linktree: https://linktr.ee/paw_de.
